

Summer Camp 2017

Community Tisha B'Av Observance

A community Tisha B'Av observance, sponsored by the Rabbinic Association of Greater Kansas City, will take place on Monday, July 31, at CBS. The evening begins at 8:15 pm with Ma'ariv and will be followed by a D'var Torah and reading of Eikhab (Book of Lamentations) in both Hebrew and English. This is a meaningful service with beautiful, mournful melodies, some engaging teaching, and a time for communal reflection on both painful times of our past and hope for our future. The fast will end at 9:30 pm Tuesday evening.

"Tisha B'Av (the fast day that is on the ninth of the Hebrew month of Av) commemorates more than simply the physical destruction of the two Temples," states Rabbi David Glickman. "The sages teach that the Temple was destroyed by sinatchinam - baseless hatred of one Jew toward another. By accepting this premise, one could say that baseless hatred was the root cause for the destruction of the Temple - and all subsequent calamities that befell the Jewish people in the 2000 years since our exile from the Land of Israel. By multiple congregations, multiple rabbis and multiple types of Jews coming together to observe Tisha B'av, I truly feel that it is a bit of a "Tikkun" - a "Repair" - of the root of exile."

Summer Book Review: Option B, by Sheryl Sandberg

Reviewed by Rabbi David M. Glickman

Many of us like to take some extra time during the summer with a good book (or Kindle), and hopefully, summertime can be a chance to grow Jewishly as well.

Though not found in the “Judaica” section of your local bookstore, Sheryl Sandberg and Adam Grant’s best-seller, Option B: Facing Adversity, Building Resilience and Finding Joy is one of the best Jewish books you may read this summer.

Adam Grant is a professor at the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania and is the coauthor of the book, though it is written in Sandberg’s voice. In addition to personal anecdotes of resilience in the most horrifying of situations, as well as silicon-valley derring-do, the book draws heavily on the work of University of Pennsylvania psychologist, Martin Seligman. Sheryl Sandberg is the COO of Facebook and arguably one of the most successful women in American business today. She was married to Dave Goldberg, who was the CEO of SurveyMonkey.com, who died suddenly while on a treadmill during a family vacation a little over a year ago.

Instantly, this incredibly successful executive, blessed with an amazing partner of a spouse, was a widow in her forties raising two children on her own and managing Facebook. The book is bracingly honest. It is more truthful than the celebrity gossip magazines that glamorize the perfection or revel in the disaster of the Hollywood elite. Sandberg opens up about a woman facing a pain that all of the power, all of the money and all of the prestige in the world cannot heal. The title comes from the conclusion of her introduction first written in a lengthy personal Facebook post she wrote on her husband’s shloshim (30-day mourning memorial). Sandberg speaks about breaking down when there is a father-child activity for one child. A friend says to her: “Option A is not available. So let’s just kick the s--- out of Option B.”

Sandberg shares many practical ways to find resilience in one’s own life, and also how to parent toward resilience. Sandberg doesn’t always soar. She stumbles and moves forward. She falters and celebrates small triumphs. In short, she is human.

I find Sandberg’s humanness refreshing, since my biggest critique of Facebook as a presence in our lives, is that it encourages a type of “over-sharing” that makes one think that everyone has a perfect life. Option B teaches all of us that even those with a “perfect life,” are not insulated from tragedy. Also, this book gives us tools not just to be resilient in the face of grief and loss, but how to be present for others who are grieving.

Finally, Option B is one of the most unabashedly and naturally Jewish personal reflections on mourning. Sandberg writes lovingly of the Jewish mourning rituals she practiced and reflects on the meaningful relationship she has with her faith without being dogmatic or proselytizing. She recalls conversations with rabbis, the bittersweet moments of a friend’s daughter’s Bat Mitzvah, and singing oseh shalom with her children.

If there is one thing that binds us together, it is that we all experience grief and loss. Though the book is inspired from Sandberg’s sudden widowhood, the tools she gives and the stories she tells are relevant for many types of loss. This is not only a book to read, but one to give from one friend to another.

Parashat Hashavua

Parashat Hashavua is an ongoing, monthly program taking place every third Shabbat of the month at 9:00 am in the conference room. The goal of this program is to engage its participants in a stimulating discussion of the weekly torah portion in a friendly atmosphere, where the difference of opinions is respected and questions are encouraged.

The next session will take place on July 15, when Parashat Pinchas will be discussed. An informal atmosphere and deep level of discussion are the trademarks of this gathering. No prior experience is required, and everybody is welcome to join.

For more information, contact Svetlana Sorkin at 913-393-1715 or saraliorasedu@hotmail.com.

Annual Meeting Synopsis

I want to give a brief synopsis of our annual congregational meeting last month. The highlights of the evening were we have a balanced budget for the 2017/2018 fiscal year, and we are also on schedule to have a balanced budget for the current fiscal year. I want to thank the budget committee consisting of Jason Krakow, Brian Brockman, Bernie Fried and Pam Fite for all of their hard work to help us reach this point.

The Rose Family Early Childhood Education Center enrollment for next year is projected to be at 75 students, which is the same as this year, and is great news. The Summer Camp program for this year has full enrollment, which is even better news, and both are a testament to the great program run by Judy Jacks Berman.

The Polsky Religious School is projected to have 89 students next year, which is slightly down from the 92 we had this year. Hazzan Tahl Ben-Yehuda has instituted a Sunday morning breakfast before class which has been a huge hit. This breakfast will continue next year and is a great place for students and parents to meet and greet.

We also discussed the facility team which has begun the process to look for an architect for our sacred space.

The team is currently interviewing architects. We'll update you when there is more information to share.

I also want to welcome our new board members; Tom Jacobs, Miles Ross and Larry Silver. We look forward to your contributions.

I want to thank all of the congregants who attended the annual meeting, and I hope you have a relaxing summer as we all get ready for the next school year and then the High Holidays.

Abe Meth Dies at 104

Abe Meth, Holocaust survivor, died on May 27 in Sun City, Arizona just six days short of his 105th birthday. He was born in Budapest, and married his wife Lillie in 1939. They came to the United States in 1948 and lived for 30 years in Kansas City, where he was ritual director, taught religious school and supervised congregation management at CBS. He and Lillie retired to Arizona in 1978 where Abe became the Torah reader at Beth El Congregation in Phoenix and also joined Temple Beth Shalom in Sun City.

His life work included teaching Hebrew and Torah to many generations of students, violinist, opera composer, singer, calligrapher, jewelry maker and collaborator of Raoul Wallenberg by forging Swedish passports and thus saving hundreds from the Holocaust. He is survived by a son, Joseph Meth and a daughter, Agi Oblas, three grandsons and two great-grandchildren.

This is Hunger

Congregation Beth Shalom, Jewish Family Services and Episcopal Community Services are excited to host This Is Hunger, a powerful interactive exhibit of hunger in America. This is Hunger is a 45-minute experience that is housed in a "big rig". Created by Mazon, this tour is geared to adults and children in 6th grade and older, but parents are welcome to bring younger children at their discretion. The tour will be housed in our parking lot from July 9-13, and free tickets may be reserved by logging on to <https://thisishunger-overlandpark.eventbrite.com>.

More information, or group reservations (up to 10 tickets), can be made by contacting Farrah Udell at 913-647-7282 or fudell@bethshalomkc.org. Note: In case of inclement weather, This is Hunger will be closed.

Sisterhood Has Two Upcoming Membership Events

Show your creative side- Tuesday night, August 22, from 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm at Paint, Glaze & Fire. We will host "A Paint and Glaze Party" for prospective members and members who are unable to come to afternoon events. Wine and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

Get motivated- Tuesday afternoon, September 12 when we will have a luncheon and a fun and motivational afternoon with a terrific speaker at CBS.

Look for invitations in the mail.

Dini Freed Attends Women's League Conference

I was recently lucky enough to represent our Sisterhood at the IntraContinental Spring Conference in Minneapolis. This year's theme was "Open Your Eyes". Approximately 70 women attended. Our main purpose was to strengthen our Jewish knowledge; share useful ideas and increase our circle of friends. Temple of Aaron Sisterhood opened up their beautiful synagogue to evening services; delicious dinners, rap with the Rabbi, a musical tribute from the Cantor and of course, shopping in the gift shop.

As our new Sisterhood board begins their two year term in July, I encourage all CBS women to open your eyes and mind to considering becoming a Sisterhood member; open your eyes to attending a Sisterhood program, and open your eyes to our many volunteer opportunities. Next year's conference is in St Louis- count me in!

Fun Summer Activities

Miss Judy, Director of our RFECEC, suggests some fun activities to do with your kids this summer:

1. Any kind of water play is great on a hot day from sprinklers to kiddie pools to going to the pool. Did you know there is a new sprinkler park at 105 and Roe Avenue?
2. We live in a city blessed with many great museums. Visit the new Johnson County Museum at the new Johnson County Arts and Heritage Center at 87 and Metcalf.

3. Science City at the Union Station is another fun place to visit. Also, there is the Model Railroad Experience at the station.
4. Kids' theater is a great treat. Stage Right and the Coterie Theater have summer performances.
5. Kaleidoscope at Crown Center is another great way to spend time.
6. Indulge in cooking and science activities at home. Pinterest is a good source of ideas.

7. Go to the library and pick books to read every day with your child! Reading is one of the most important indicators of how well your child will do in school so help your child love reading. AND, IT IS FREE! What is better for a kid than snuggling up with a parent or grandparent and a great book!

Enjoy your summer. It passes all too quickly.

Youth & Informal Education

Stefanie Williams, Director | swilliams@bethshalomkc.org | 913-647-7292

CMT (Chapter Membership Training) was held at Ironwoods Park. It was the perfect place! We now understand why Stef likes to call it FCB – Forced Chapter Bonding! The activities we do really connect us and make us learn so much about each other! We welcomed the incoming freshmen and said goodbye to our seniors. We loved staying in the cabins where we slept in real beds, and it was a great change from sleeping in the youth lounge! We had a cookout, decorated our new chairs, did an interactive program with Rabbi Glickman, played Capture the Flag, wrote superlatives about our KCUSYers, had a song session by the fire and did bonding activities that were amazing! We even got to have a bonfire and roast s'mores. In the morning, we completed an incredible challenge course that pushed people, and we were all able to support each other! Everyone got the chance to climb a huge tower, and so many of us reached the very top! We could not have done this without putting our trust in the four people below who were helping to guide our way!

Our seniors are sad to be finished with this stage of USY, but the new and excited freshmen at CMT made them confident in the future of our chapter!

Happy Anniversary
