Sunday, February 9

Goldsmith Hall

Cocktail Hour with Open Bar Begins at 6:00 PM

Dinner Served at 7:00 PM

Chef Calvin Davis was brought up in the restaurant industry. His grandfather, Dr. Richard Davis, invented KC Masterpiece Barbecue Sauce and Chef Davis grew up running around the family-owned restaurants. In 2011, Davis enrolled in the Culinary Institute of America after spending two years learning the ropes of fine dining in a country club in Springfield, MO. After an internship at Woodfield Country Club in Miami and graduating from the CIA, Davis spent time staging at various restaurants around NYC including Le Bernardin, Babbo, Gramercy Tavern, and Salumeria Rossi. Davis then returned to Kansas City to open Milieu, a small modern French bistro as the Chef de Cuisine. An offer came from New Orleans to be the opening Sous Chef of a revived French Quarter classic, Marti's, where Davis was quickly promoted to executive chef and spent two years at the helm there. Deciding to move back to Kansas City, Chef Davis spent time at Local Pig butcher shop and restaurant in Westport before taking a position as Chef de Cuisine of Gram & Dunn. It was during this time Davis began doing Pop-Ups under his own name and developing the Freshwater brand. In May 2017, Davis finally realized his dreams and opened Freshwater. After 2 months, a car accident closed the restaurant for the better part of the next year. During this time, Davis opened Revival inside the Hotel Frederick in Boonville, MO. Since Freshwater reopened in May 2018, Davis has seen countless accolades and awards for both restaurants, and in March 2019 received a James Beard Nomination for Rising Star Chef of the Year.

Chef Calvin Davis will delight our palates at the 3rd Annual Breaking Bread Event. Mark your calendars now for this enjoyable evening.

The Online Jewish Learning Revolution: Part I. Sefaria & Podcasts

Never before in human history has so much Jewish content been available so easily to so many Jews. It can be both overwhelming and invigorating. In this month's column I am going to try to curate some great Jewish learning that is available on the internet beyond Chabad.org, Aish.com, and MyJewishLearning.com (though all three are great). I will introduce Sefaria and many podcasts. Next month, I will introduce actual classes that are available online for free and for minimal cost.

Sefaria: The Greatest Jewish Library for Free on Your Computer: In my opinion, Sefaria is the greatest revolution in Jewish publications since Daniel Bomberg mass-published the Talmud on a printing press in the 1520's. Sefaria has access and connections to every significant classical Jewish text. All of it is accessible in Hebrew and the number of texts available in translation grow each week. Every time that a verse from the Hebrew Bible is found in other sources, a list of those sources pop up. When you are studying the Talmud, there is a list of every commentary and later legal work that quotes that section. If you want a tutorial in how to use this, please email me and we will set up a time (and if multiple people respond to this offer, I'll create a class).

An Introduction to Podcasts: For those who haven't entered into the world of podcasts, these are essentially homemade radio shows that can be listened to on your computer, tablet or smartphone. You use an application like Apple Podcasts (which come preinstalled on all iPhones and iPads). Other options are Overcast for iPhone (download from overcast.fm) or Pocketcasts for either iPhone or Android (download from pocketcasts.com). Click here if you are a Spotify customer to learn how to stream podcasts on Spotify.

If you are reading this on paper I recommend you search for the classes and podcasts online with Google. Or, if you read this article on our webpage or digitally, each will be linked.

Podcasts: Jewish Politics and Culture: Self described as "The world's leading Jewish podcast," Unorthodox produced by the online magazine Tablet is a blend of culture, religion and politics. The politics tend to skew left of center, and the tone is irreverent and smart. They also tour around America so sometimes the episodes are broadcast from different locations. On iTunes here.

The Tikvah Fund is a Jewish, Zionist neo-con thinktank that has a very good interview-based podcast called The Tikvah Podcast. On iTunes here. When discussing politics it is almost exclusively moderately right-of-center. Beyond politics, though, they have some of the best interviews with historians, Jewish thinkers and non-fiction authors.

A podcast I just discovered in the past month is Judaism Unbound. This is a bit of Jewish "insider baseball," interviewing many Jewish professionals that work in the Jewish world. However, it is a great insight into innovations in Jewish communal life around the country. It is a collaboration of The Institute for the Next Jewish Future and The Oshman Family JCC in Palo Alto, California. Judaism Unbound is available on iTunes here.

Podcasts: Jewish Textual Learning: For a comfortable conversation about the weekly Torah portion, give a listen to Parsha in Progress. Each week this hosts a conversation between author, Abigail Pogrebin and Rabbi Dov Linzer. Pogrebin is a Reform Jew and noted author. Linzer is the head of the liberal Orthodox, Yeshivat Chovevei Torah. Each episode is under fifteen minutes and is like you are listening in on a coffee-shop conversation about the weekly Torah portion between two very smart friends. Parsha in Progress podcast can be found on iTunes here.

If you to dive into rabbinic commentaries on the Torah portion check out The Parsha Nut. This is a pun, because "parshanut" is the medieval practice of deep commentary on the Torah. This podcast is not making new episodes, but it is one of the best introductions to rabbinic commentaries on the Torah. It is created by Rabbi David Kasher, a rabbi ordained by Chovevei Torah and now teaching at Ikar in Los Angeles. The website has textually rich written source sheets to follow along with and read deeper. The Parsha Nut podcast can be found on iTunes here.

The Hadar Institute is an egalitarian, post-denominational yeshiva in New York that I have a close relationship with. Rabbi Ethan Tucker is interviewed on the Responsa Radio Podcast by Rabbi Avi Killip exploring cutting edge topics in Jewish law like: "Can I bow down in a karate class?" and "Can I keep an Amazon Echo active on Shabbat?". This has a conversational style, but takes a thoughtful deep dive into the meaning undergirding Jewish law. It seeks relevant connection between our ancient wisdom and contemporary life. Responsa Radio Podcast can be found on iTunes here.

In the "V'ahavta," the first paragraph of the Shema, we say that the Torah is to be u'vlecht'cha baderech – with us as we "walk on the way." With these podcasts, Jewish wisdom can accompany you when you walk on the way, jog on the track, drive in your commute, or sit in an airport. If you check one of these out – please drop me a line at dglickman@bethshalomkc.org so we can talk about it!

Life Lesson 28: "Don't cry because it's over. Smile because it happened." – Dr. Seuss

We cannot be certain Dr. Seuss actually uttered these words first, but we can be certain that better advice would be hard to find. We mourn the loss of a close family member, friend, teacher, significant other, or some other person we felt close to. Their loss may leave a big hole in our heart we feel will never heal.

We lament the end of a long-term relationship or marriage and wonder what went wrong. We deplore being laid off from a job we have held for years through no fault of our own. We cry for the loss of a special gift we received from a special someone because it meant so much to us.

Yes, loss of any kind is a terrible and tragic thing to experience. And yes, it's okay to feel awful, to experience that pain and empty feeling in our hearts and minds because we have lost something we loved so much. But how long should we mourn our loss? The answer is as long as we feel the need to.

But when that day comes, we can take the time to think about the good times we shared with those who are no longer with us. We can start to remember how much joy we got from that special gift. We can begin to feel a smile on our face that will grow over time as we remember how grateful we are that our special someone was in our life.

We cannot control the date God will call a loved one home, but we know it is never the right time. We cannot predict when tragedy will strike. In the end, all we have are wonderful memories. Try to let go of the bad; try to only remember the wonderful times we had. Let's not cry because it is over; let's smile because it happened.

Sisterhood

Sisterhood Celebrates its 96th birthday with Song and Prayer

Sisterhood invites the entire Congregation to join us for Sisterhood Shabbat in commemoration of our 96th birthday on Shabbat morning, January 18, 2020. Parashat Shemot is read. Shemot begins the book of Exodus and is the start of our liberation from slavery in Egypt. This service is led by the women of Sisterhood. Beth Shalom Sisterhood is the oldest auxiliary organization of this congregation. This is a time when we honor our Sisterhood members, especially those who have graciously given both monetary gifts and the gifts of their time. We hope you can join us for this beautiful service and Kiddush luncheon. Sisterhood is looking forward to seeing you.

Sisterhood Book Club February 5, 2020 | 1:30 PM

Sisterhood Book Club will meet on Wednesday, February 5 (February 12 backup date in case of inclement weather) at 1:30 PM at the JCC in the large boardroom on the main floor. The club will discuss "Spies of No Country" by Matti Friedman. The subtitle of the book is Secret Lives at the Birth of Israel. "The story of a ragtag unit known as the Arab Section, which was conceived in Palestine during World War II by British spies and Jewish militia leaders, and which eventually became the nucleus of the Mossad, Israel's vaunted intelligence agency." For more details or to attend, contact Linda Lessner at llessner@kc.rr.com or at 913-897-0122.

Sarah Peltzman Adult Education Classes

Over the years I have been asked, what is the point of the confirmation trip to NYC? When I applied for my first position as the director of a very small religious school, I was asked how I would know our school had been successful. I replied that we would know we had been successful if the kids in our school had Jewish grandchildren.

We often measure success by student attendance and family engagement, but we will know we truly succeeded at helping to shape our students' Jewish identity in a positive and meaningful way if, throughout their lives, they make their important decisions with a Jewish lens – raising a Jewish family, supporting causes that are aligned with Jewish values, living a life that is Jewishly meaningful. Not only knowing about Judaism, but living their Judaism.

The confirmation NYC trip is full of Jewish content, including visiting the Lower East Side and the Tenement Museum, eating at kosher restaurants, seeing art with Jewish themes, visiting the Jewish Museum, celebrating Hanukkah in public places. Waking up is "Boker Tov" and going to bed is "Lila Tov" – and all this is done with their Hazzan and their Jewish friends. The students make positive memories within the structure of a synagogue trip. They see a Broadway show, go bowling in Times Square, and view NYC at night from the top of Rockefeller Center, all of which could be done by anyone, but when done by a group of Jewish kids together with their clergy, it becomes a Jewish experience.

We make this trip to NYC so that our kids can be closer to each other, and closer to their clergy. We make this trip so that our kids can get a taste of what NYC is like through a Jewish lens. We go to NYC together to add one more powerfully positive Jewish memory to our kids' childhood before they head to college and start making all their own decisions. We make this trip as insurance that their Judaism won't be confined to what they know, but will include what they do and how they act in the world.

New Year, New Beginnings

by JUDY JACKS BERMAN | DIRECTOR
jjb@bethshalomkc.org | 913-647-7287

Jewish people are so lucky that we have two New Years: Rosh HaShanah and January 1st! What a great way to teach children about new beginnings! Change can be hard or scary but we all have personality characteristics that need adjustments!

- Have a family meeting and discuss ways each family member can choose some way to improve themselves.
- Let each person choose their own changes to make, this is about personal growth and new beginnings.
- As a family come up with some traditions you would like to start.
- Maybe a special Shabbat dinner or a family mitzvah project or a social action project.
- Maybe a weekly or monthly movie night or game night.
- Have fun with it and enjoy your renewal experiences!

Happy, healthy 2020!

FROM THE Board

by ART FEDERMAN | PRESIDENT

How old are you? Do you belong to Congregation Beth Shalom because you want to celebrate holidays together with friends and family? Or do you belong because you want to send your children to our religious school or preschool? Are you interested in learning more about Jewish history and practice? Perhaps you grew up at Beth Shalom and want to stay connected to friends and family here. Or (like me) you didn't grow up at Beth Shalom but want to build a community of friends with common Jewish interests. Regardless of your age or interests, you should be able to find something at Beth Shalom that will grab your Jewish soul, and maybe be a lot of fun as well. Just look at some of what we are offering between now and Pesach. Our annual fundraiser, "Breaking Bread", is hardly the only event planned. Indeed, the funds raised from that fundraiser, and your dues, make so much of our programming possible. Here's a sampling of what we have to offer for members of all ages and interests:

Three separate Shabbat Around the World Dinners (January 10, February 21, and April 24) chaired by Rhonda Fromm, Renana Abrams, and Andrea Krakow—these have sold out in the past, and should again.

Another round of adult cooking classes, this time for Purim. The Hanukkah classes were a hit, and these should be as well. Watch for dates and times.

Speaking of Purim, a Purim Shpiel with activities for kids, a party for adults, and the opportunity to fulfill the mitzvah of hearing the Megillah; this has been the best-attended Purim event in town the past few years.

Also for Purim, a Geshet Dinner and Party as well as two separate Geshet Havdalah "undernights", one on January 11 for K-2 kids, and another on February 22 for 3rd to 5th graders.

Steppin' Up, for seniors, which had over 80 in attendance at its first event. Another program, this time during the day, is set for February 23, with Marlene Katz as Chair.

For our teens, KCUSY is hosting the EMTZA winter Shabbaton from January 24-26. Let's all join them for Kabbalat Shabbat on January 24.

For PRS students and their families, we offer Sunday morning breakfast, services, and storytelling with Hazzan Ben-Yehuda. Stop by any week and see how our school is building an incredible foundation for Jewish living in our students.

For preschool kids and their families, watch for the new indoor wood playground equipment, which is being custom designed and built for our students, through the generosity of the Eddie Rose family. And for all kids of preschool age, Tot Shabbat is offered one Shabbat a month.

All this plus Tefillateinu (services with musical instruments) once a month on Shabbat morning. We also have a beautiful weekly Kabbalat Shabbat service and, of course, Shabbat morning services every week.

Oh, and services twice daily during the week, Peltzman Adult Learning Classes, and more than I have room to describe.

If that seems like a lot, it's because we at Congregation Beth Shalom recognize that our members have different interests, different schedules, and different needs. With that diversity in mind, our goal is to find ways to connect our members to each other, to allow each of you to develop the relationships that are at the heart of Jewish living. That's why we offer such a variety of programming. So do me a favor: come to shul for a service or event you aren't used to attending. And please feel free to tell me or the other officers how we are doing. Thank you for your continued support for all that we do.

Hanukkah Master Chef Cooking Class

On December 5th and 10th, Congregation Beth Shalom hosted the Hanukkah Master Chef Cooking Classes led by Sharon Keshet through our Youth and Family Programming Department. Sharon loves making cooking and baking fun, easy, and exciting. Sharon teaches a recipe and then lets everyone dive into making the recipes for themselves, having a full meal at the end of the class. Sharon will be teaching again in the spring but until then is available by email at sharon2304@hotmail.com if you misplaced your recipe book or want to talk about future classes.

Kadima News: (6th-8th Grade)

Last month Kadima had a super fun night doing a team-building arcade race around Dave and Buster's. We were able to make new friends and race against the old ones! Check out the Kadima Programming flyer to see what is happening the rest of the year.

KCUSY News: (9th-12th Grade)

For 60 years, USY has taught young Jews the values and skills they need to become exceptional leaders in their religious and secular communities. USY empowers youth to develop friendships, leadership skills, a sense of belonging to the Jewish people, and a commitment to inspired Jewish living through meaningful and fun experiences rooted in Conservative Judaism's approach to learning, spiritual expression, and social responsibility. USY inspires in teens a deep sense of pride and love for their Jewish identity.

Our Beth Shalom chapter of USY, KCUSY will be hosting the EMTZA region for Winter Shabbaton January 24th-26th, 2020 in our congregation and in congregants' homes. EMTZA region spans from Colorado to St. Louis and from Kansas City up to Minneapolis. EMTZA has chapters in synagogues throughout the region that provide local programming.

We are inviting teens to come spend Shabbat together, learn and have tons of fun! USY allows teens to learn about Judaism and Israel, do social action projects, give tzedakah, and enjoy other social programming with their peers.

We invite you and your family to participate in one or all of the three ways below:

1. Join us in Goldsmith Hall for Kabbalat Shabbat Friday evening to welcome the teens to our community.
2. Host our teens in your home which is giving them a place to sleep for Friday and Saturday nights and then driving them to the synagogue for programming.
3. Sharing the information of this weekend with 9th-12th grade teens that you know!

If you have any questions, want to sign your teen up, or offer your home for hosting, please email Becca Levine at blevine@bethshalomkc.org

Sisterhood

Listen, Learn and Do PrayerWorks January 22, 2020 | 10:15 -11:45 AM

Beth Shalom Sisterhood's award-winning PrayerWorks has returned!

When Rickie Haith, PrayerWorks facilitator for over 20 years, had extensive back surgery in January 2019, Suzanne Lange, PhD, capably volunteered to lead a temporary prayer group called Prayer Partners. There are not enough words to thank Suzanne for taking her time, effort and energy to graciously volunteer.

In the last few weeks, Rickie's health has greatly improved and she will be able to return to her prayer sessions in January. Rickie said her strong faith, family, friends, and prayers on her behalf from Prayer Partners and the synagogue, helped in her healing.

Now it is the community's turn to Listen, Learn and Do PrayerWorks. All former and new prospective participants are invited to learn more about PrayerWorks and get reacquainted. Come join them on Wednesday, January 22, 10:15-11:45 am in the Conference Room at Beth Shalom.

For additional information contact, Rickie Haith, facilitator RickieH1@aol.com 913-341-8707

Parashat HaShavua For more information, contact Svetlana Sorkin at 913-393-1715 or saraliorasedu@hotmail.com.

Parashat HaShavua is an ongoing, monthly program taking place every third Shabbat of the month at 9:00 am in the conference room. The goal of this program is to engage its participants in a stimulating discussion of the weekly Torah portion in a friendly atmosphere, where the difference of opinions is respected and questions are encouraged.

The next session will take place on January 18, when the PARSHA OF THE WEEK: SHEMOT will be discussed. An informal atmosphere and deep level of discussion are the trademarks of this gathering. No prior experience is required, and everybody is welcome to join.
