Happy Hanukkah

December 7 - 15, 2023

Blessing Over the Hanukkah Candles (to be said prior to lighting the candles) ברוך אתה הי אלקינו מלך העולם אשר קדשנו במצותיו וצונו להדליק נר של חנכה.

Barukh atah Adonai, Eloheinu Melekh ha'olam, asher kid'shanu b'mitzvotav, v'tzivanu l'hadlik ner shel Hanukkah.

Blessed are you Adonai our God, Ruler of the universe, who has made us holy through God's commandments, and commanded us to light the Hanukkah candles.

Blessing for Miracles (recite immediately following the first blessing, prior to lighting) ברוך אתה הי אלקינו מלך העולם שעשה נסים לאבותינו בימים ההם ובזמן הזה.

Barukh atah Adonai, Eloheinu Melekh ha'olam, she'ahsa neesim la'avotaynu bayamim haheim baz'man hazeh.

Blessed are you Adonai our God, Ruler of the universe, who performed wonders for our ancestors in history at this very time of year.

Blessing for Special Occasions (recite following the Blessing for Miracles only on the first night of Hanukkah) ברוך אתה הי אלקינו מלך העולם שהחיינו וק'מנו והגיענו לזמן הזה.

Barukh atah Adonai, Eloheinu Melekh ha'olam, shehekheyanu v'kiy'manu v'higiyanu laz'man hazeh.
Blessed are you Adonai our God, Ruler of the universe, who gave us life, sustains us, and enabled us to reach this season.

Standing As One: So Rare

Standing at the March for Israel in Washington, D.C. with members of our Kansas City community and members of our senior educational and clergy team at the synagogue was a profound experience. I ran into close relatives I hadn't seen since before COVID. I reconnected in person with dozens of friends I hadn't seen in years or decades, and I knew I was standing in the mall with so many other friends I didn't run into physically.

I saw folks waving Pride flags with Stars of David emblazoned on them like an Israeli flag. I saw entire black-hat yeshivot who stood in separate fenced in areas so the boys didn't mix with girls as is their custom. Sweatshirts and kippot from every university Hillel and Chabad on campus were visible. Signs from every city in North America were raised high telling everyone that their community was there.

Seeing all the signs and swag visible, it reminded me of the Numbers 2:2 describing the Israelites in formation in the desert: "The Israelites shall camp each with his standard, under the banners of their ancestral house." Our "standards" were the individual municipalities from which we came, the banner of our "ancestral home" were the seemingly infinite Israeli flags reminding the world that the Land of Israel is all of our ancestral home. I know that in a minute we will be arguing again. We will self-separate over denominations, nuances of liturgy, meaningful disagreements over philosophies. Some of our divisions will help us cast a wider net by having a variety of entry ways into the Jewish people's tent; some of our divisions will be meaningless and self-destructive hairsplitting. But for that one, two-hour window we stood together. We were the largest choir singing "Star Spangled Banner" I'd ever been a part of, and possibly the largest choir in history to sing "HaTikvah." We all chanted "Bring Them Home!" loudly. Even if media outlets chose not to hear our cries, perhaps the Great Redeemer of Captives would hear our cry.

As we approach Hanukkah, I pray that our candles will shine to even the darkest of places for those who need these lights the most.

Eight (OK, Seven) Crazy Nights

What a pleasure to be writing this month's Scroll article from my desk at Beth Shalom! Now wrapping up a long weekend full of learning, shmoozing, and praying, I'm looking forward to coming back for nights 2-8 of Hanukkah. This visit will be special because of the Hanukkah festivities, and I'll be here for a full week. As with the time I spent in residency this past August, being here for an extended stay allows me to participate in the ebbs and flows of the weekly calendar, from daily minyan to monthly committee meetings. Thank you to everyone who has helped make visits like this possible!

In addition to the meaningful day-to-day moments, we're also planning some special Hanukkah events. It has been so wonderful getting to know many of you over the past few months, and I look forward to continue deepening these and new relationships, including at these events:

Friday, December 8 - All Ages, 4:30 pm

Candles, Cocktails, Latkes, & Kibbitzing (4:30 pm in Goldsmith Hall). Join us for Hanukkah and Shabbat candle lighting, a family friendly service, dinner, and games.

Saturday, December 9 - All Ages; Families with young children 11 am

After giving the D'var Torah in the Library Minyan, Rabbi Kaplan will be at Pajamukkah Shabbat: Tot Shabbat and Programming for families with young children, followed by kiddush lunch. Roll up like a dreidel in your Hanukkah finest (PJs, winter sweaters, fun socks) and join in some age-appropriate Hanukkah fun!

Sunday, December 10 - Families/Teens, 3:30/7:30 pm

Join Rabbi Kaplan at the Hanukkah Glow Party (3:30 pm @ the J) and the Community Teen Hanukkah Pajamaca Party (7:30 pm at Urban Air).

Thursday, December 14 - Adults, 7-9 pm Northern Presence

Fairway City Hall - Candles and Charcuterie (The Somewhat Messy, Somewhat Cheesy Lesser-Known Hanukkah Story). You've heard of the great latke-hamentashen debate, but what if we told you that the adult story of Hanukkah, like the Purim Megillah, also includes a strong woman, a carefully crafted scheme, copious alcohol, and a beguiled with Rabbi Kaplan. We'll take a look at this parallel story, find out what wine and cheese have to do with Hanukkah, and nosh on Hanukkah Charcuterie boards.

FROM THE Hazzan

I am on the plane headed home from the March for Israel in Washington DC.

It was a clear, bright, breezy, perfect day. My brother and I arrived on the mall very early- we made our way up to the stage to experience the event up close. This meant that we were with mostly college and some high school kids and their families, and with Israelis and people who like me and my brother, have family in Gaza. Our Uncle Mark's cousins, Keith and Aviva Siegel, residents of Kfar Aza, who made aliyah in their youth and were dedicated to relations between Palestinians and Israelis.

There were impressive speakers who made succinct and impactful statements. There were parents, siblings, and loved ones of hostages who spoke. Also, American and Israeli elected officials, Jewish-American actors, and American and Israeli singers. Throughout the five hours that we stood, sang, chanted, danced, and cried, I kept returning to one thought- this cannot be all. What will we do next? What will each of us do right now?

On November 26, I am flying to Israel. I will spend four days there with a handful of cantor-colleagues giving pastoral care to displaced Israeli families in Jerusalem. We will volunteer in temporary schools in the hotels that have become centers of refuge for entire communities. We will perform a concert for those those families. We will sing and pray together, and I will bring all the love and passion of our entire KC community with me.

On October 20, my now-fiancé and I got engaged. On December 30, we will celebrate our aufruf, being called to the Torah to receive a blessing a week before we get married. All this tremendous personal joy is in relief of the backdrop of the war in Israel and the most dramatic level of anti-Jewish hate incidents in America.

What can we do? We can - we must - punctuate our grief and our activism with moments of utter joy and celebration. We can and must bring our prayers for release of our hostages - our family - to these events. We can and must keep their names on our tongue and images of their beautiful faces before our eyes. We must exercise the longing for their return as we exercised our longing for a return to our homeland for 2,000 years - with prayers, with protests, phone calls and letters to our elected officials. We must show up to vigils and to synagogue services; we must be together. We must deepen and strengthen our community so that not one Jewish person in Kansas City has to feel isolated or afraid.

My friends, now is the time to be stronger than we have ever been. Join the leaders of our community in support of the people of Israel who need our support, who need to know that we are praying for them, that we are with them, that their struggle is also our struggle.

FROM THE Director of Youth and Family Programming

I've always been fascinated and comforted by the joy in which Judaism provides. Among many of these fascinations that I have come to be exceedingly grateful of, is the positivity in which Judaism exudes. One place where this is incredibly prevalent is that we have a prayer we say, the Shehecheyanu, whenever we are having an experience for the first time.

Recently, I got to experience a group of our middle schoolers have a wonderful "Shehecheyanu moment" at Geshner Kinnus. KCUSY took eight middle schoolers (and one high school regional board member) to Omaha for a weekend of connections being made, Jewish learning, delicious food, and lifelong memories being formed. For all of them, this was their first USY convention of the year. For four of them, this was their very first USY convention. This was the beginning of what will hopefully be a long tradition of involvement in USY programming.

It was an honor to witness our middle schoolers develop their love for USY for the very first time. We may all experience "Shehecheyanu" moments regularly, however this one seems like it deserves recognition, and a very special ברוך אתה ה' אלקינו מלך העולם שהחינו וק'מנו והגיענו לזמן הזה.

It Takes a Village! How Can I Help?

The children of the Polsky Religious School need their Jewish friends now more than ever and you can be a part of making that possible. Here are a few ways you can get involved:

- Do you know someone who is interested in working as a Jewish educator? PRS has openings for paraprofessionals, Hebrew tutors (online or in-person), and substitutes for in the classroom and in the office.
- We are also looking for a school nurse or doctor to work on Sunday mornings from 9:30 am to 12:00 pm.
- PRS hosts Hanukkah parties, Model Seders, and a family breakfast each Sunday morning. Your help in preparing for these programs will make them even more successful.
- Send me an email when you are ready to volunteer. The students are looking forward to seeing you around the school! Todah Rabbah!

Mika Kislanski, our Kansas City Shlichah from Israel, spent a Sunday morning answering questions from our very inquisitive middle school students. This session enriched the time that they spend in Dawn Gale's class learning about Jewish History and Values. On her follow-up visit, Mika will speak with the class about the current war and social media. Thank you Mika and the Jewish Community Federation for providing our kids with this outstanding opportunity!

Mazal tov to the 2023 Consecration Class! The Kindergarten families took part in a brief Shabbat morning service followed by time to play in the new PreK classroom. The children joined the main service where they stood under a huge tallit and were blessed by the entire congregation. They sang Modeh Ani, Shema Yisrael, and Hatikva so beautifully! Thank you to Lauren Levy, Jen Salazar, and Renee Silver for preparing delicious food and amazing gift bags for the kids!

Making Hanukkah Meaningful

Here are some additional ways to teach the Jewish values of G'milut Chasadim Acts of Loving-kindness and Tikun Olam, making our world a better place-helping to fix the world as well as enjoy quality family time together.

Night 1: First night of Hanukkah - let your kids open all their gifts from relatives and friends. The other nights are about Hanukkah experiences. Here are some ideas to help your family find the other ways to enjoy Hanukkah together!

Night 2: After lighting candles, enjoy latkes, dreidels, singing Hanukkah songs, and family game night.

Night 3: Count up all your tzedakah for the year and divide it up to the different agencies your kids think you should give money to. Some ideas include: JFS Food Pantry, Wayside Waifs, Operation Breakthrough, Synergy services....you get the idea.

Night 4: After candle lighting, decorate cookies or cupcakes and bring them to your local fire station or police station.

Night 5: Family Pajama night: everyone gets new pajamas and enjoys movie night!

Night 6: Donate toys and art supplies to Children's Mercy Hospital.

Night 7: Make your own pizza night out of either English muffins or any dough you like.

Night 8: Each family member chooses a family experience for winter break: day at the zoo, Science City, The Regnier Family Wondersope Children's Museum of Kansas City, etc.

Hanukkah is such a fun holiday for families. It is the best teaching opportunity for parents and young children. In kid's eyes, Hanukkah is about gifts, toys and treats. Let's rethink some of this. Hanukkah can also be a time of giving to others as well as wonderful family experiences.

MINYANAIRE OF THE MONTH: ERIC POE

I started going to daily minyan during the early days of the pandemic because it was something that forced me to get out of bed and allowed me to provide a service to my shul community. As Yogi Berra, the world-renowned Talmudic scholar, famously said when he paraphrased Ketubot 72a, "you always go to other people's funerals, otherwise they won't come to yours." In a similar way, I see how the minyan regulars and the mourners reach out to each other and comfort each other with a kind word, a gesture, and just being there together on a weekday morning.

Of Blessed Memory

We express condolences to our Beth Shalom Members, their Families and Friends.

This would be a good opportunity for groups or individuals to earn community service credits. For more information or to sign up, contact Bruce Luchen at 913-220-7518 or bluchen0731@gmail.com.
