A Productive Year in Review

BY DR. ANN KARTY, PRESIDENT

Congregation Beth Shalom is a diverse, egalitarian, conservative Jewish community striving to enhance life-long connections to Judaism and to each other through prayer, spirituality, learning and friendship. Beth Shalom strives to be a synagogue of dedicated, involved congregants:

- Passing on the traditions and values of Conservative Judaism to the next generation and beyond
- Committing ourselves to life-long learning
- Repairing the world through acts of loving kindness
- Supporting one another in times of joy, sorrow and need
- Growing an engaged base of volunteers
- Ensuring continuity of our synagogue community through responsible fiscal management

Hopefully, these phrases are familiar. They are Beth Shalom's mission and vision and they remain at the core of everything we do and the basis of our decision-making. I invite you to pause and reflect about how those phrases apply to your relationship with Beth Shalom.

I'd like to share some personal thoughts about this past year.

- Last summer, we joined two groups. Much like a marriage, we connected two families and integrated two cultures.
- We paid off the note on the current building, broke ground on our new Sacred Space, and moved water lines for the city of Overland Park. The foundation has been poured, walls will soon be going up, and we are slated to open the building in spring 2024. Again, thank you to the many generous donors with pledges of nearly $15M that helped to make this happen.

- For those of you considering making gifts beyond brick and mortar, this is your opportunity to enhance future programming and engagement. Please reach out to Stef Williams, Rabbi Glickman, Gina Kaiser or Ron Coppaken who can help you make this happen.

- Our Education Director Civia White continues to enhance religious school activities, our Youth Director Ben Novorr works with our teens in programming, and Judy Jacks Berman continues to direct our successful Early Childhood Education program.
- We pray with traditional services in Goldsmith Hall and the Lower Level Prayer Space, as well as musical Shabbat services Shir L'Shabbat (continuing our northern presence) and Tefillateinu. Torah Learning classes enhanced our Shabbat experiences, and we have Tot Shabbat and elementary school-age services. We daven with traditional tunes and we practice new melodies with Rising Song.

- Educational initiatives for adults will continue during the next year (think trope classes, both basic and advanced, Torah for Lunch, and Peltzman).
- The Northern Presence Committee is planning programs at locations around the metro. Look for more information as those events are finalized.
- Keep an eye out for family engagement opportunities, integrating Simchat Torah/Sukkot experiences, and Shabbat Around the World Dinners.

Thank you, Rabbi Glickman, Rabbi Padorr, and Hazzan Ben-Yehuda. Your leadership has guided us spiritually. Over the next year, Rabbi Kaplan will join to participate in all aspects of our collective synagogue life.

Thank you to Stef Williams, our executive director, for having such flexibility and a "can-do" attitude with everything at the synagogue.

I am grateful to all our loyal teachers, support staff, maintenance crew, and cemetery team. You help our congregants, our families, and our children in many ways, too numerous to list, and definitely appreciated. Much appreciation and gratitude to the Board of Directors, our committee chairs, and our loyal group of volunteer synagogue members that help with all kinds of tasks (here's just a few): scheduling and participating in Torah and Haftarah readings, attending minyanim, cooking and setting up Shabbat morning kiddush (with the Kiddush Corps), delivering challah to our new members, and filling mishloch manot bags. Our dedicated crew of volunteers also supports Lechem, Chesed, Membership, Building and Grounds, Administration, and other synagogue committees.

Of course, we're always recruiting for more helpers with manpower hours and financial costs for new challenges.

Thank you to the entire membership for being a part of our synagogue family. Cheers to what our future together will bring!

President Dr. Ann Karty speaks at the annual meeting on June 11, 2023.

Building Update: On Time & On Budget!

BY GINA KAISER, SACRED SPACE
BUILDING COMMITTEE CHAIR

The construction of the sanctuary and renovations to the existing building are on track for completion in spring 2024. The steel just went into the fabrication process and we hope to see the steel rising in July.

We are on budget for the construction. The budget contains a substantial amount of contingency dollars that we believe will be sufficient, but we will probably spend all the contingency funds. Those of you who have built anything know that changes occur once the actual construction is underway, and those changes are always cost increases, not decreases.

To date, we have raised almost $15M. We were able to accomplish this goal because of the generosity of numerous donors, some of whom made multiple substantial pledges. Many of you will recall that we had significant cost increases as a result of Covid and the resulting supply chain issues—increases of almost 25%. What that means for us is that the money we had for the endowment to cover increased operating expenses has to go to bricks and mortar. That shortfall is $1.5M.

In order to be fiscally responsible and not saddle future generations with a financial burden, we have a plan to raise this additional money. Some congregants will receive personal calls and visits from us, but we cannot personally reach everyone.

Therefore, I ask you to think about a generous pledge—or an additional pledge—one that is meaningful according to your financial means. You can pay it over a period of years, and it can be in cash, stock, or an IRA distribution, just to name a few payment methods. We need everyone to participate. This is YOUR synagogue; all of you, at some time, will attend services in the new sanctuary, or hold a lifecycle event there. Please think seriously about giving or giving again, and contact Stef Williams (swilliams@bethshalomkc.org) Ron Copaken (roncopaken@aol.com), Rabbi Glickman (dglickman@bethshalomkc.org) or me (gkaiser447@gmail.com).

MINYANAIRE OF THE MONTH: BERNIE FRIED

"I have been attending morning minyan occasionally since 2009, and daily six days a week since 2013, when my mother passed. There were days when we did not have 10 attendees, and we made phone calls to try to round up the one or two we needed. It was then I realized the importance of supporting all those who, like me, need a minyan to say Kaddish or yahrtzeit in their time of need. My synagogue family was here for me when I needed them, and I promised myself I would always be there to support them."

Wrapping Up A Joyful Year at Rose Family Education Center

BY JUDY JACKS BERMAN, EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION DIRECTOR

We have had such a wonderful 2022-2023 school year! Our children learned about all the Jewish holidays and weekly Shabbat. The students loved celebrating the end of each week with Shabbat and a Shabbat party, then starting Monday morning with Havdalah!

Our children learned Jewish values as well as the parshat of the week. They learned how to count in Hebrew, their colors and body parts in Hebrew as well as many prayers, vocabulary and lots of Hebrew songs. We enjoyed puppet shows, juggling and mime shows, concerts, farm animals as well as visits from exotic animals. On top of daily art projects, lots of cooking, hundreds of stories read, and songs sung, it's been an amazingly busy wonderful year.

Every Friday before lighting candles, the children gave tzedakah. At the end of the year, the children voted on where to donate their $400. They wanted half of their money to go to the Jewish Family Services' Pantry and half to Wayside Waifs.

As I begin my 30th year at Beth Shalom Rose Family Early Childhood Education Center, I would like to share many of the joys I have gotten from this incredible job! The thousands of smiles, high-fives and hugs have filled my heart for all these years! Seeing so many of my former kids as youth group leaders, leaders in the Jewish community and now parents themselves has been so gratifying and joyous for me! I am so blessed to have a job that I have loved coming to every day! The faculty and parent body are incredible to work with and share my life with. Everyone should be this lucky to have a job they love!

I am looking forward to a great 2023-2024 school year! Happy Summer!

Ending the School Year PRS-Style!

BY CIVIA WHITE, YOUTH & FAMILY EDUCATION DIRECTOR

Mazel Tov to all of the students and teachers on the completion of the school year. Right up to the very last day, PRS was buzzing with activity.

Our second graders presented a Torah Service! They wore tallitot they made and read from a scroll that they had added to each week. It was awesome to be in the room with so many supportive parents and Jamie Katz, our amazing second grade teacher. The children decorated cookies and celebrated the occasion with the entire school at our end of the school year party. Well done!

The sixth graders and their parents worked together to attach tzitzit to the tallitot that the class made in Jewish Art with Beth Albee. The families enjoyed working together on a Jewish ritual item; I can't wait to see the kids wearing their creations next school year.

PRS will miss the Albee family! We presented them with a Mezuzah from the Sisterhood gift shop and know that they will think of us when they come and go from their new home in Georgia. Beth's final project with the school is on permanent display at the top of the steps to the school. Each child was asked to write and illustrate an 11th Commandment. Please stop by and take a look at these beautiful and insightful creations. PRS kids understand the importance of Jewish values in everyday life. We are so proud of them!

Interested in getting an early start at PRS? Next school year there will be a Pre-K class one Sunday a month. It will run from 9:30 am to 12:00 pm. Art projects, Torah stories, Hebrew songs, and learning Jewish values are central to the curriculum for this pilot program. Registration is now open for Pre-K, and all classes, for PRS 2023-24 at this website: <https://bit.ly/3VIftWM>

What Jews Do: We Show Up

BY STEFANIE MISLER WILLIAMS, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The past few weeks have been intense. We have had to say goodbye to several beloved friends and congregants. We attended funerals and shiva minyanim. We did what we, as Jews, do. We show up. Showing up means so many different things. Yes, it can simply mean we actually physically show up. But we can show up in so many other ways. We bring food (way too much). We send countless texts and leave so many messages. We look for ways to help. We try to be there for the mourners in any way we can and in whichever way they may need. We hug a little longer and a little tighter. We try to take a little bit of their grief and make it our own. Anything we can do to alleviate any of their pain. Not just because it hurts us to see them hurting, but because it is what we do – it is a part of our tradition. We show up.

My own children have stood by their friends at shiva minyanim from a very young age. They understand that this is what we do. When my dear friend recently lost her father, it was important to Amos that he come with me to shiva. He will become a bar mitzvah in a year, yet he already gets the significance of showing up. Ayla planned to go with me to my friend's house on Shabbat and help make a minyan so they could say Kaddish. A bunch of her friends came to our house right before we left, but there was never a question that she was going to show up.

When we found out they needed another person to make the minyan, one of Ayla's friends was happy to join us. The person leading the teaching that evening spoke to them and focused on the importance of b'nei mitzvah. The importance of what they did. They showed up. They didn't know my friend's dad. They barely knew anyone in the room. But they knew that this is what we do. We show up.

And so, I have been a bit emotional. Between feeling all the loss and holding back tears... but also feeling the pride. Feeling the connection to Jewish people everywhere. Discussing with my friends how even in difficult times, we see the ways our tradition keeps pulling us together. Showing us the light, even through the darkness. The way our tradition guides us time and time again.

And, a few days later, I got the full circle moment. One of my old students, a former USYer, became a father to his son and I got to show up. I was lucky enough to celebrate at a brit milah. I got to witness another one of our amazing traditions. To share in the simcha of something so extraordinarily special. Again, we hugged a little longer and a little tighter. This time the tears were filled with dreams of what is yet to come. I felt the joy and the pride – because our tradition has always encouraged me to show up.

COMMUNITY CONVERSION PROGRAM NOW ENROLLING

Do you know someone considering conversion to Judaism and seeking a comfortable forum to learn more about the fundamentals of Jewish thought and practice? Interested candidates are asked to contact the Rabbinical Association to learn how they can register to participate in this year's community-wide course "Judaism for Conversion Candidates" which begins August 17.

The comprehensive year-long course is designed for adults and taught on a rotating basis by rabbis from the Reform, Conservative, Orthodox, and non-denominational movements.
